a uniquely specialised Australian business.

Wahoo is a full-service, specialist agency that's dedicated to meeting the strategic needs of Australia's Mining & Resources sector.

As a collective we've got over 35-years' experience working together with clients at iconic mine sites that have become synonymous with the success of the industry for decades.

From corporate advocacy campaigns and crisis management to ESG, DEI, Talent Attraction and Stakeholder Engagement, we understand what the industry needs and how to deliver.

You see at Wahoo, we feel just as comfortable at a longwall as we do in the boardroom. From underground operations to open-cut extraction, right through to processing and refining plants - we've worked on brand campaigns and operational assignments that have showcased some of the best people and sites the mining and resources sector has to offer.
